

CARDS — 15, in the "Who catches you" style

Matching card images are in the cards/ folder (one .svg per card, 9:16, ready to open and export). This file is the text + captions so you can reword, regenerate, or hand the copy to Studio.

Branding line (on every card, top): "Recovery app for you and the one that supports you" — it tells a stranger what Turn Someday Into Day One actually is.

Layout, top to bottom (this is the exact card in the cards/ folder):

Element	Style
Mark	small white circle ("day one" dot), centered
Tagline	"Recovery app for you and the one that supports you" — white, small, under the mark (this is the new branding line that says what the app is)
Big line	white, bold, sans-serif, centered, upper third
Turn line	#e5c158 yellow-orange, sans-serif, just below
Footer	LINK IN BIO in yellow, TURN SOMEDAY INTO DAY ONE in faint grey under it

Why this exact format works (from your own numbers): the big line names a feeling, then the yellow line turns it into a gut-punch. That beat is what gets it saved and sent to somebody — which is the behaviour that moves a small account.

Build it two ways:

1. Two-frame cut (better): the big line alone for 4s → big line + yellow line for 6s → a FREE TO USE / No card. No trial. end frame for 3s. The cut in the middle is what makes the second line land.

1. One still (faster): post the full stacked card as a photo + an in-app sound. Use this when you're short on time, not by default.

The caption must extend the card, never repeat it.

Hashtags (3–4, consistent):

#addictionrecovery #lovinganaddict #recoverysupport #soberpartner

On the free/13-tracks cards, swap one for #freeapp.

Order: 1–5 (addict) → 6–10 (supporter) → 11–15 (paired). Post one a day, not fifteen at once. Card 15 goes last — it's the one that puts the app (and you) in it, and it lands hardest after everything before it was only about them.

THE ADDICT (5)

Big: You were never weak. Turn: You were tired, alone, and unarmed. Caption: WHO — you. WHAT — the relapse you're still ashamed of. WHEN — the bad night. WHERE — alone with it. HOW — stop fighting unarmed: a plan and an SOS button beat willpower. Link in bio.

Big: "One more won't hurt." Turn: That exact sentence has hurt you for years. Caption: WHO — you, arguing with yourself. WHAT — the story that always sounds reasonable at the end of the day. WHEN — right before you give in. WHERE — wherever the pull is loudest. HOW — decide in advance, so the story doesn't win. Link in bio.

Big: Day four gets you nothing. Turn: That's why it counts the most. Caption: WHO — you, mid-fight. WHAT — the day most people quit. WHEN — day four, when nobody's clapping. WHERE — your ordinary Tuesday. HOW — a counter that still ticks on day four. Link in bio.

Big: You hide it so well Turn: you've started hiding it from yourself. Caption: WHO — you. WHAT — the performance that costs more than the habit. WHEN — every time you rehearse your face. WHERE — the mirror before you walk out. HOW — the day you stop hiding is day one. Link in bio.

Big: "I can stop whenever I want." Turn: So prove it — tonight, not someday. Caption: WHO — you. WHAT — the thing you've never actually checked. WHEN — tonight. WHERE — your phone, in two minutes. HOW — the free 2-minute check-in, no signup, nobody sees it. Link in bio.

THE SUPPORTER (5)

Big: Who catches you Turn: when you're the one who falls? Caption: WHO — the person holding up an addict. WHAT — the invisible second recovery nobody names. WHEN — 2am, the worst ten minutes. WHERE — the room next to him. HOW — your own program, free. Link in bio.

Big: You can't pull him up Turn: if he's pulling you under. Caption: WHO — you, the supporter. WHAT — the line between helping and drowning. WHEN — the day he relapses and it feels like yours. WHERE — at home, after the door closes. HOW — your own oxygen mask first. Link in bio.

8

Big: Everyone asks how he's doing. Turn: Nobody asks how you are. Caption: WHO — you. WHAT — the one question nobody thinks to ask. WHEN — every single day for years. WHERE — every room you've been fine in. HOW — start being honest about your own recovery. Link in bio.

Big: You didn't cause it. Turn: You were never supposed to cure it. Caption: WHO — you, the one who tried the hardest. WHAT — the three Cs nobody tells families. WHEN — from the start, even though nobody said it. WHERE — wherever you've been carrying it. HOW — put the weight down; your side has a program now. Link in bio.

10

Big: You can tell from the doorway. Turn: That's not a skill anyone should need. Caption: WHO — you, reading him in one glance. WHAT — the surveillance shift you never signed up for. WHEN — every time he walks in. WHERE — the doorway. HOW — stop being the only one keeping track. Link in bio.

THE PAIR (5)

11

Big: Two people in this house. Turn: Two recoveries. One app. Caption: WHO — him and her, under one roof. WHAT — addiction is a two-person story; only one side ever got help. WHEN — the same night, two battles. WHERE — the same four walls. HOW — one app for both sides. Link in bio.

12

Big: He's not the only one Turn: who needs a day one. Caption: WHO — the addict and the supporter. WHAT — recovery built for both, not one. WHEN — whenever either of you is ready. WHERE — your own phone, private. HOW — two counters, two tracks, free for both. Link in bio.

13

Big: How do the two sides Turn: change the story? Caption: WHO — the one using and the one watching. WHAT — the same night from two sides: his urge, her worry. WHEN — at the same hour. WHERE — one wall between them. HOW — each side finally gets its own chapter. Link in bio.

14

Big: The habit isn't the problem — Turn: it's the symptom. For both of you. Caption: WHO — the whole house. WHAT — the thing underneath the habit, the part nobody helps with. WHEN — long before anyone calls it addiction. WHERE — the quiet hours. HOW — 13 tracks that work together, plus a section for the person beside you. Link in bio.

15

Big: One of you is fighting it. Turn: The other is carrying it. Free for both. Caption: WHO — him, and the person who loves him. WHAT — the app I built after 38 years addicted: a day counter, SOS tools for the worst ten minutes, 13 tracks, and a whole free section for the supporter. WHEN — day one, whenever you're ready. WHERE — private, on your own phone. HOW — free to start, upgrade only if you want more. Link in bio.
